

PROFILE OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Paul Sutton has been with the City of Charles Sturt for over 11 years, and CEO since mid 2015.

With over 20 years of local government experience, Paul has held roles in a range of disciplines including General Management, Governance, Strategy and Policy, Organisational Development, and Program Review.

His leadership is strongly focused on collaboration and bringing both people and agencies together for the betterment of the community.

He is an approachable and authentic leader with experience in addressing complex challenges and delivering strategic outcomes. Paul is committed to an effective and flexible public sector, delivering services and infrastructure to the community in a responsive and efficient way.

Paul has tertiary qualifications in engineering and management disciplines including a Master of Business Administration (Uni of Adelaide). He has been a member of a variety of boards and was most recently Company Secretary and Executive Committee Member of IPAA SA (Institute Public Administration of Australia) as well as a Member of the IPAA National Council. He was awarded fellowship of the National Institute in 2016.

