Australian Road Rules

A Parking Guide

The City of Charles Sturt strives to encourage sensible and safe parking for all road users.

City of Charles Sturt Council strives to encourage sensible and safe parking - this in turn will lead to reduced congestion and improved safety for all road users. It also allows buses and service vehicles to operate more effectively, improve the general environment and enable Council to control and manage parking for our community's benefit.

Yellow Line

Cars must not park on a yellow line. These lines are in place for safety reasons.

Yellow lines are in place for your road safety. You can help traffic to flow smoothly and prevent obstructions by not parking on a yellow line.

Intersection

Cars must leave 10 metres of clearance (approximately 2 large car lengths) from an intersection so that other cars can safely pass without causing danger.

Allowing 10metres (approx. 2 car lengths) from an intersection will allow other road users to safely pass by and help you avoid a fine.

Driveway

Cars must not park in a way that blocks other cars from entering or exiting the driveway. In an emergency the car may be towed away.

Be safe and avoid parking in a way that blocks other vehicles from entering or exiting a driveway. You'll also avoid your car being towed away in an emergency.
