Meet me on East Terrace Creative seating design

Artist Team: Monica Prichard & Sarah Boese

Our design of an abstract quirky fish seat is inspired by the 'Stunned Mullet' fish & chips shop name. Within the design we took into consideration points made at the business owners meeting. The design reflects the enthusiasm in the meeting for a sea theme with a playful twist. It also aims to use the floor mural to connect the seat to the other businesses.

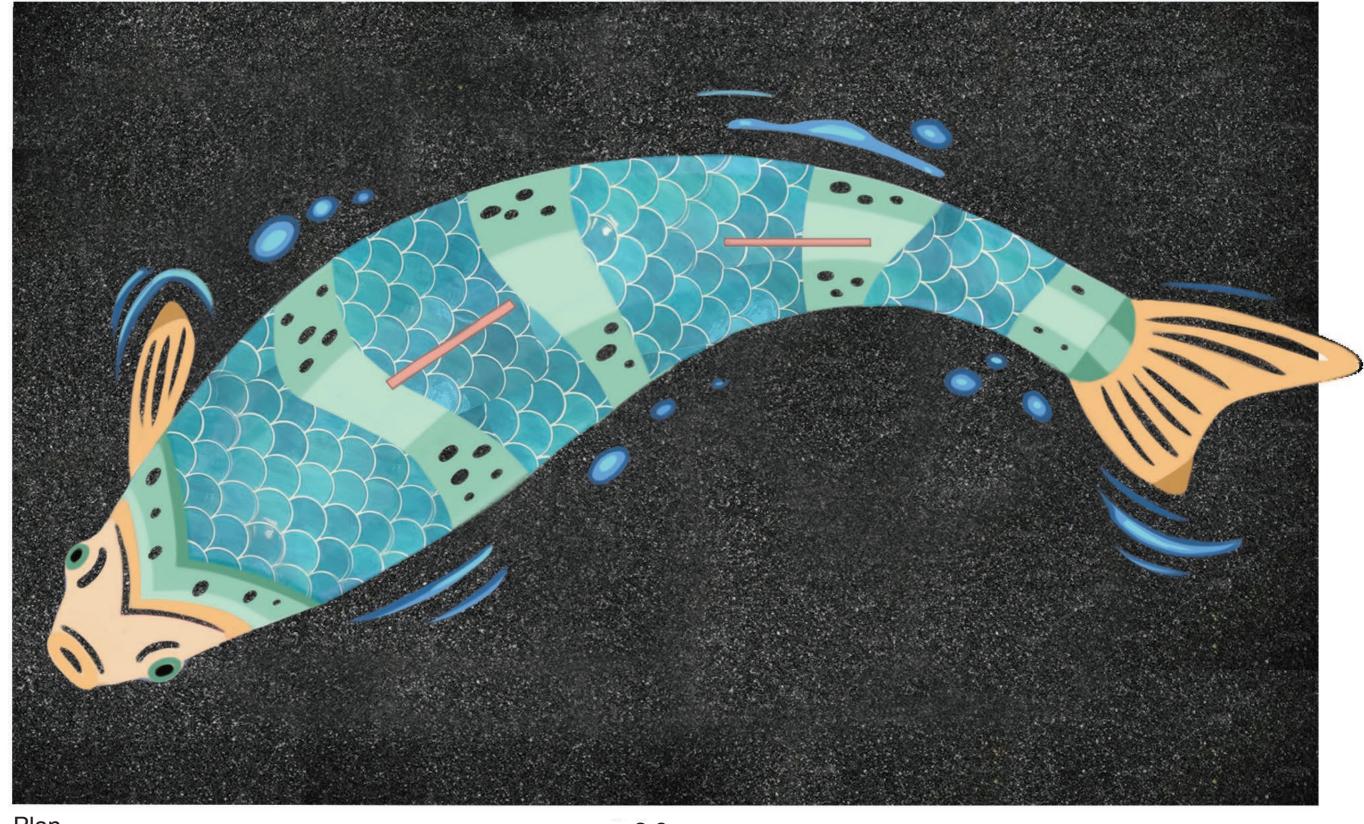

Site Plan- Not to scale

In the meeting it was mentioned that the site of the seat floods regularly. The sites ground surface texture also means a mural on it would wear away quickly, even with specialty road paints. We decided to increase the longevity of the floor mural to focus majority of it on the footpath instead. With the mural being on the footpath we used it as an opportunity to extend it down to link to the other businesses.

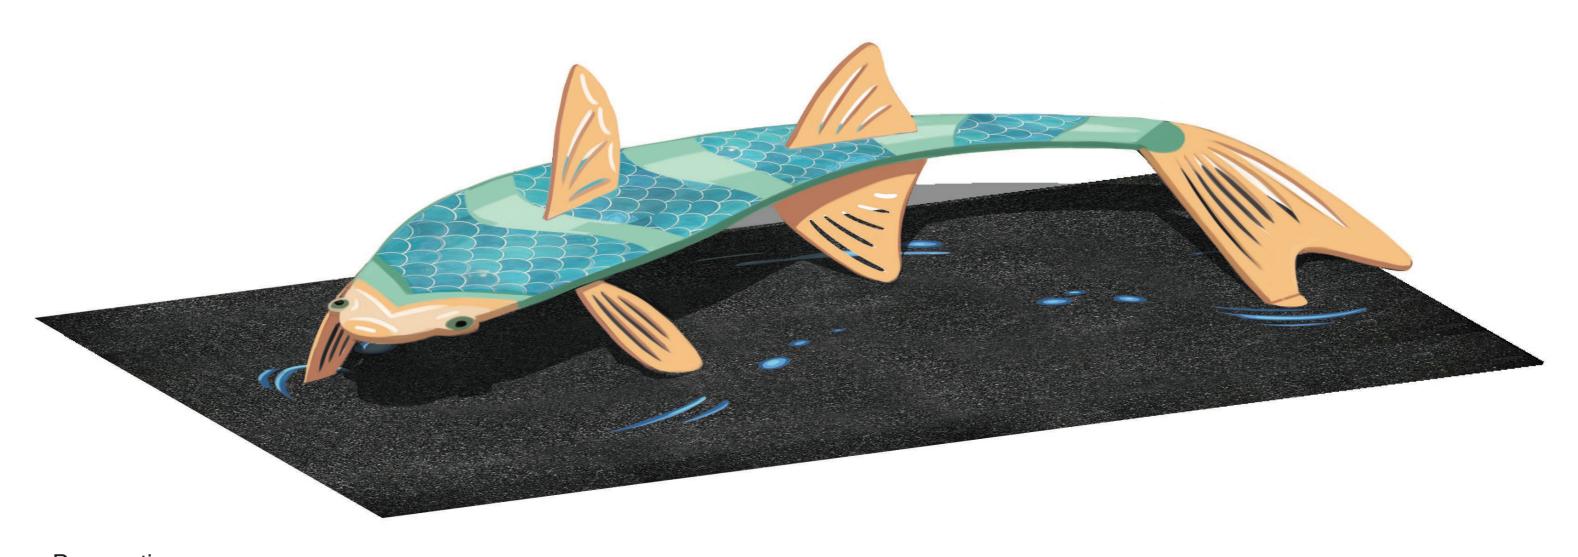

Given we extended the floor mural and incorporated lighting we did not design planter boxes into the design. However, there is still locations that bought planters could be positioned to add to the space.

Colours depicted in images are subject to change for the final design. We are happy to discuss the change or addition of certain colour preferences.

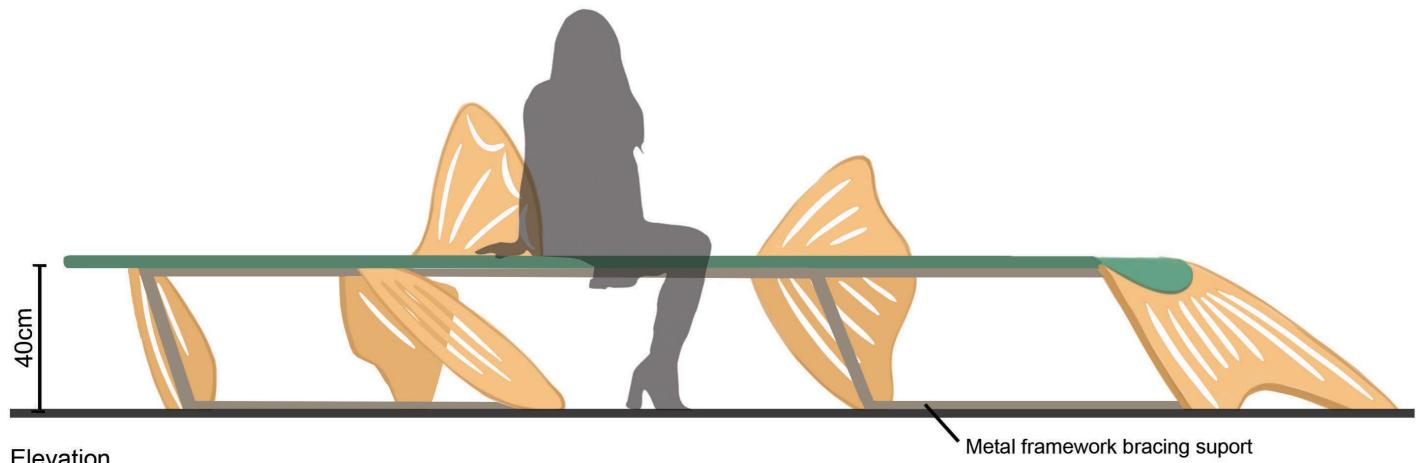

Plan 3.6 m

The fish seat shape is swimming in a semi-circle shape to create a semi-circle seating for one too four people.

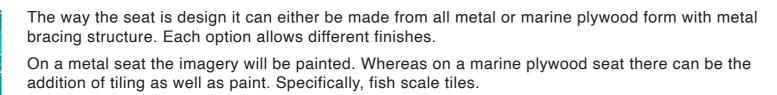

Perspective

*Note: Solar Powered LED waterproof strip lighting is attached to the underside of the seat. The lighting creates an atmospheric glow under the seat at night.

Both have different budget considerations.
